Dear Colleagues

Association of Animal Scientists (AAS) and Apollo College of Veterinary Medicine, Jaipur, Rajasthan have great pleasure to invite you to the 2nd Veterinary and Animal Science Congress and National Symposium on "Technological Interventions for Improving Animal Health & Productivity" which will be organized from February 17th-19th 2024. We are excited to host and feel privileged to welcome our distinguished participants in Jaipur, the pink city of the country. This symposium will provide an appropriate forum to our research scientists and academicians to interact and exchange their views regarding the current research areas, innovations and advances in the technology deployed, emerging problems and approaches in various aspects of production, reproduction, nutrition, adaptation, behavior, genetics, biotechnology and its interrelationship with continual changing scenario. The 2nd Veterinary and Animal Science Congress is a congregation of scientists from all subjects of Veterinary Science & A.H. including wild life and fisheries sciences.

About Association

The Association of Animal Scientists (AAS) was established in the year 2015 at College of Veterinary Science & A.H., NDVSU, Jabalpur, India, with the great enthusiasm of the scientists and academicians scattered all over the country and abroad passed out from the then JNKW and presently NDVSU, Jabalpur. AAS has emerged as a platform for the absorption and distribution of knowledge on all aspects of domestic animals, wild animals, poultry sector as well as fishery sector and to focus attention on various problems on these entire fields. The society has been taking up the issues of evaluation, maintenance, monitoring and is making all out efforts to focus attention on these aspects, as how the targeted researches directly related to animal management, health, diagnosis, prevention and treatment of diseases, productivity and animal product quality and value addition of respective products. AAS functions closely with Scientists, Field Veterinarians and Farmers and trying to bring all these functionaries at one forum to address the problems of management, diagnosis of diseases, prevention and treatment of diseases in domestic and wild animals, poultry as well as fishery sector. It will have a motivational role for the Scientists, field Veterinarians as well as entrepreneurs to create newer innovations and develop the lab to land technology through the institute as well as field level research.

About the College

The Apollo College of Veterinary Medicine, Jaipur Estd. in Oct. 2003 is the pioneer institution in private sector, imparting quality Veterinary education in India. This institution is an ideal place for acquiring education in Veterinary and Animal Husbandry. Graduates of this college are globally placed in different National and International organization of Veterinary and Animal Husbandry profession.

Venue & location

The ACVM is located in the capital city of Rajasthan-Jaipur, popularly known as PINK CITY. It is well connected by rail, road and air. The climate is arid and semi arid for major part of the year. The city of Jaipur is a landmark center on world map for tourism and polo. Jaipur is located on National Highway No.8 connecting Delhi and Mumbai. National Highway 12 links Jaipur with Kota and National Highway 11 links Bikaner with Agra passing through Jaipur.

Theme

The livestock sector has emerged as an important stakeholder in GDP of nation in recent years. However, attempts to maximize the productivity of livestock obviously increase their vulnerability for diseases. It is therefore high time to adopt the sustainable scientific strategies that would help in maintaining sound health of animals during their entire productive life. The present convention aims to bring researchers, academicians and field veterinarians on one platform to discuss such techniques and their implementations at farmers' level for sustainable productivity of livestock
